MOTIVATION AND FEATURED SPONSORS

Motivation

The new supervisory architecture in the European Union is taking shape with the start of the Single Supervisory Mechanism: The European Central Bank will take over the direct supervision of big European banks beginning November and before has been running an Asset Quality Review in combination with stresstests. The outcome of this Comprehensive Assessment will have far reaching implications, as regards credibility of the ECB, risks in the banking sector, economic recovery in EU member states as well as on burden sharing in absence of a workable European resolution framework.

We will also shed light on limits of a common supervision in the European Union tackling political issues and constraints in shaping a workable Banking Union. The conference finally discusses unfinished reforms, debating also the financial stability aim and constituents of a fair financial order in the EU. We will discuss these topics intensely, with a public interest and scientific stance.

The conference brings together politicians, regulators, scientists, civil organizations and representatives of banks. We will thereby stimulate the further discussion on the role of the ECB, the way ahead to the Banking Union as well as on political shortcomings and the responsibility of financial institutions. In this regard, the conference gives an inspiring opportunity.

About the Organizer

The Financial Risk and Stability Network is an independent initiative focusing on regulation and financial sector reforms in the EU. It contributes to the provision of information and to knowledge building on these issues via its platform and events. The initiative thereby presents a starting point for dialog, open discussion and cooperation.

A sound financial sector serving real needs is key for Europe, its citizens and economic welfare. We are far from this. And financial stability is never a given condition. It is only achieved by rules, good regulation and oversight. We need to improve regulation, enhance governance and redirect responsibility to those who take the risks.

Shaping policies which respect the interest of society is an essential, ongoing challenge. FRSN therefore stimulates debate and opinion making on financial sector reforms amongst citizens, scientists, politicians, regulators and industry experts. The initiative will thereby intensify the discussion on an adequate regulation from a public interest perspective.

Independence, transparency as well as a critical and constructive perspective, supporting the notion of civil society, are main principles and core values of the initiative. The understanding is as a complementary to institutions and organizations which have a societal-, dialog- and research-driven approach.
