NETWORK

FRS Financial Risk and Stability gGmbH is a non-profit organisation based in Berlin focusing on bank regulation, financial stability and financial sector reforms in the EU.

It contributes to the provision of information, research and views exchange on these issues via its activities and events. FRS stimulates research, engages in education, advances the policy debate and brings together various stakeholders in open debate formats.

FRS will thereby intensify the discussion on an adequate regulation of the financial sector. It presents a starting point for dialog, research and cooperation, and offers a networking framework for those who are interested in.

Independence, transparency as well as a critical and constructive perspective are core principles of the non-profit organisation. FRS is research-based and policy-oriented. The approach is dialog- and research-driven.

Motto of FRS conferences is bringing together different stakeholders, policy makers and societal groups in open and critical discussions on topical regulatory, supervisory, institutional framework and financial stability issues.

The events shall be expanded in the forthcoming years, fostering existing partnerships, creating new ones and providing an impact to the discussions on regulatory reforms with the aim of improving financial regulation.

The events shall be accompanied by related research and dissemination activities. Early stage researchers already contributed to research on topical subjects. We publish conference reports and track significant publications.

FRS is also involved in a joint application for a scientific European network project for financial stability research. Intention is to encourage young scholars research across disciplines, disseminate results and take part in debates.

FRS is open to and envisaging institutional cooperations and project collaborations as regards interdisciplinary research, exchange and events. It has already developed a sound European network of individuals and institutions.

Main activities in 2018/2019 are:

- Financial Stability Conferences
- further events and discussion formats
- joint research projects and arrangements
- expanding the experts and research network
- development of cooperations and collaborations
- further organisational build up and bodies set-up

These activities shall be funded by project-related grants, contributions and sponsorings, receiving specific benefits, as well as other contributions, donations and grants without or in return for offered benefits and presentation.

- Institutions and corporates are invited to support the Financial Stability Conference 2018 with a grant or a sponsoring. We offer attractive, valuable benefits for this high-level event providing a prominent visibility.
- We are as well open to collaboration and institutional cooperations as regards further event concepts and realisation provided that funding is ensured. We also may support you in developing and realisation of own events.
- Specific research and research-related projects like studies can be worked-out jointly or agreed upon proposal and funded by grants and/or sponsorings.

- We envisage to install an advisory board including corporates to engage with thoughts and funding.
- Corporates may support the non-profit organisation with a contribution for the enrolment of their profile as a supporting member on the 'members' page.
- Individuals from financial institutions, consultancies and law firms may support the organisation with a contribution for the enrolment of their profile and join the network as expert member.
- We also welcome donations – without benefits in return – by individuals, institutions and corporates. Donation receipts can be issued.
